CELEBRATING THE PAST AND CONTINUING INTO THE FUTURE

53rd Annual IAWP Training Conference
23 – 27 August 2015
Cardiff, Wales

In September 2015 more than 500 law enforcement professionals from across the world will attend the International Association of Women Police (IAWP) Annual Training Conference in Cardiff.

The Conference coincides with two very important milestones for women in policing. It is the IAWP's Centenary Year and we will also be celebrating a century of British policewomen as the first were appointed in 1915.

This unique event presents a fantastic opportunity to promote your company not only to a global audience, but by showcasing your support for the achievements of policewomen throughout the world through our excellent sponsorship packages and/or by taking a stand in our exhibition that will be running alongside the conference.

It is estimated that our delegates will bring over £1million of business to Wales.

The IAWP has members in over 60 countries and champions the unique role that women play in law enforcement. It provides its members with networking, mentoring and training opportunities. For more information about the organisation please visit www.iawp.org

The IAWP's Annual Training Conference is an event like no other. It focuses on training and best practice globally, attracting a high calibre of speakers. Cressida Dick, Assistant Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and President of the British Association for Women in Policing was one of the speakers at our conference in South Africa in 2013. She said, "I recently attended the 51st IAWP Conference in Durban; it was inspiring to see so many people with such energy for, and commitment to, developing security and law enforcement concepts across the globe".

During the Conference the IAWP holds its annual awards luncheon celebrating the achievements of policewomen throughout the world. There are opportunities for companies and organisations to sponsor individual awards.

In this sponsorship pack you will find details of the opportunities available to you. Please read through it and don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Julia Jaeger
